Announces Participation in the Ross Valley Farmer's Market
Thursdays, September 11th and 18th, 3:30-7:30

MAGC Provides Unique Opportunity at Market

For Immediate Release

Ross, California (September 2)– The Marin Art & Garden Center (MAGC) will be participating in the September 11th and 18th Ross Valley Farmer's Markets with something for gardening enthusiasts of all ages. For the adults, we will have native plants for sale from MAGC's own nursery along with a wide variety of relevant gardening books. For the kids, we'll have a station set up to find "compost critters" and pick up a free sticker. We'll have information available on our 2008 fall programs – Eco-Friendly Garden Education & Arts programs for children, youth, and adults, offered in collaboration with Ross Recreation. A wide array of classes will be offered, ranging from an after-school gardening camp for children to a family gardening series to a Marin authors series to a crafts class in and for the Garden. Additionally, we'll have information regarding how to become a volunteer at MAGC.

The Ross Valley Farmer's Market will continue Thursdays 3:30-7:30pm at the Ross Post Office on Ross Common and Lagunitas Avenue through the end of September. The market is a project of the town of Ross and Golden Gate Farmers Market Association.

For more information, call MAGC at 415-455-5261 or the association at 382-7846. Photos and interviews available upon request.

About MAGC

Marin Art & Garden Center is a non-profit organization with the mission of being a supportive and enriching community resource, most specifically for the arts, horticulture, history and environmental conservation. The Garden Education Department's mission is to increase understanding of ecological systems and to promote the use of sustainable, organic gardening practices.
